Fr Jack

Many of us have had good lives and we thank God for that. But let us continue to thank him by helping others. If you have been blessed, not necessarily 100% but very blessed don't shy away from helping others. Many people out there have miserable lives, not necessarily their fault, but with a little bit of help they could go a long way. Nobody is so rich they do not need any help and none so poor they have nothing to give. You can change a person's life. Reach out. beyond family, be the one who makes the difference. They say the best form of flattery is to do what He, Jesus did. "Do this in memory of me."

Any Saturday afternoon between 2 and 4

i I will be in the office for signing forms, confession or any other issues. You're welcome without an appointment.

Pope Francis's Last Encyclical,

Released in October 2024, is titled Dilexit Nos ("He Loved Us"), and it focuses on the Sacred Heart of Jesus, calling for a renewal of authentic Christian devotion to counter individualism and find deeper meaning in a fragmented world. The encyclical, his fourth, builds on themes of love and fraternity from his previous works and urges Catholics to rediscover the tender consolations of faith through acts of service and commitment to mission, rather than focusing on external activities or structural reforms.
