FR JACK

First Sunday of advent and our thoughts turn to Christmas. Is that Christ, our shopping, or pressure, or embarrassment or lack of money, or eating or drinking or Santa or.....A thought...

"When God becomes absolute in our lives, consumer goods become relative."

This Tuesday we start with confession with a number of priests.

1. If it is over a year since I have been then I need to go.
2. Do I have a concern for the hungry, poor, homeless, housebound, or strangers.
3. Am I serious about my relationship with God, others, mass or is it all a bit hit and miss.
4. If I am married, am I married in the church?
5. As a parent, do I pray with my children every day? Lead by example.
6. Work... do I work honestly and treat others fairly. Employers or employees.
7. As a child of the universe do I have concern for the environment.
8. Am I a good member of the family of St. James. Do I pull my weight.
9. Do I respect my parents, children, teachers?
10. How about pride, anger, laziness, drunkenness, obesity, drugs, porn, jealousy?
