Mass for Deceased People and Priests of the Camberwell Deanery.

There are seven parishes in the Camberwell Deanery, Peckham, Peckham Rye, Dulwich, Dulwich Wood, Camberwell, Nunhead and Herne Hill.

On Friday 15th November at 7pm

I hope all the clergy will be coming here, to our own parish for the Mass.

All parishioners are invited.

We trust our music and hospitality people will provide the necessary.

Fr Jack

Very familiar Gospel today. Love of God, love of myself and love of neighbour. We have four weeks left to the First Sunday of Advent and the introduction of the New Lectionary. This is not a rewritten bible but some changes in the present translation. Apparently getting back to the original/closer meaning of what is meant by the writer/speaker in the first place e.g. If an Irish man said something and a Zambian said exactly the same thing because of cultural differences it could mean something very different. So we need to get back to the original meaning. Now all of this is brilliant. And I thank all our readers for their ministry over the years. But now again, is an opportunity to renew our commitment and performance. The word of God is alive and active and as we read it that should come across.

we have got to proclaim with feeling. Please a practice can be arranged at any time, Just give me a call. 07909 140867
