Bank Holiday Masses

The Lectio Divina Group

Meets every Saturday at 4.30pm.

Lectio Divina is an ancient Christian practice of meditative Scripture reading, helping us to listen more deeply to the Word of God and prepare properly for Sunday Mass. Our time together includes silent reflection, open discussion, and prayers in a friendly and welcoming atmosphere. A wonderful opportunity to grow in faith, deepen your understanding of Scripture, and get to know fellow parishioners. All are welcome.

Fr Jack

Today is probably the most underrated feast day of the church. And yet it is the day when it all began. The Apostles had their first bible study group. Reflected on the issues and the questions Jesus had raised. They saw the problem.

They weighed up the pros and cons. That they must go and tell others about Jesus and the possibility that like Jesus they too would be killed. they judged.

And having judged they acted. They set off to proclaim Jesus as saviour of the world. And were all killed for their efforts.

Oh, how I wish for a group in any parish who could and would assess the situation and the need and then having assessed decide to go and do something about it.

EWTN Eternal Word Television Network on free view 586.

Well worth watching the news, gives you a very different perspective and gives you hope. Rather than BBC and ITV which can depress you..

PARISH DAY

Just a reminder that our parish day is on 12th July 2026.

Please, time has come for someone to move into the driving seat..

Just a little coordination, not too much.

Unity is a catalyst that activates positive results.
