Legion of Mary

Congratulations to our LOM some of their members have been evangelising outside Peckham Rye station last Tuesday, spreading the Word of God and talking to people. This is the final commandment of Jesus, "Go teach all nations." Now that they have done the sowing, we leave God to do the watering. Please pray for the success of their mission. To God be the glory. Thank you again.

Fr Jack

This gospel challenges us. Jesus here is not condemning intelligence or intellectual power but intellectual pride, the pride of the Pharisees and the Rabbis who were know alls. Proud people have no use for God. It was the humble who welcomed him. THE HEART NOT THE HEAD IS THE HOME OF THE GOSPEL.

Here we talk about (w)holistic thinking or holistic wellbeing. When I had a bad back it virtually took over my whole life, body and mind. If someone were to say to me, "Don't worry Jack it is only your back, the rest of you is OK." You can work out your own answer.

And yet we rule the divine out of our lives as if that does not matter.

Why did Jesus say, "You shall love the Lord your God with your whole mind, heart, soul and your neighbour as yourself.....

'wholistic' thinking.'

Hence, He was the perfect man.

So if we rule out God.....you might as well say "I've cut off my right leg and it does not matter."

Be humble and accept the truth of the Gospel. Childlike not childish.

RCIA

We can all be members of the Legio of Mary in our own way.

Ask around among your friends and others if they would be interested in becoming Catholic.

Often the word frightens people. All that Catholic means is UNIVERSAL. Everybody, literally everybody is welcome, rich and poor, male and female, saint and sinner etc. Please share your faith with others.
